

A man with a goatee, wearing a grey hoodie over a white and grey striped shirt, and a black backpack, is sitting on a stone ledge. He is looking upwards and to the right. The background is a blurred, hazy landscape.

JAIME HINCKSON

Jaime released his first self-produced reggae jazz album, Take Flight, in 2013. Since then, he's toured and collaborated with The Wailing Souls, Hollie Cook, Soul Syndicate, Ranking Joe, Hempres Sativa, Daniel "Bambaata" Marley, and HIRIE to name a few.

He's had the pleasure of performing at many iconic venues including The Troubador, B.B. King Blues Club, Fox Theatre, Brooklyn Bowl, House of Blues and The Greek Theatre where he opened up for hip-hop legend, Ms. Lauryn Hill. Jaime also performed as a solo artist on back-to-back summer tours through Bahia, Brazil with Pato Banton and Maca Reggae Samba.

Hinckson collaborates with international artists in a variety of genres. He produced pop single, "She Brings The Rain" for Belgian singer Natalia Druyts' In My Blood album, which went gold immediately upon its release. In Brazil, he's known for his work with Cassio Calmon and Nov4Ment3. He also spent time at Tuff Gong Studios in Jamaica, working closely with Clive Hunt and Roland McDermott. Jaime is currently producing music for multiple R&B, rock and reggae artists in addition to his own hip-hop jazz instrumentals, which will be released throughout 2018.
